DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to amendment filed on Feb. 24, 2004.
2. Claims 1, 15, 31 have been amended.
3. Claims 2, 17, 32 have been canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 3-16, 18-31, 33-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bremer (6,018,671) in view of Butler et al. (5,754,627).

Regarding claims 1, 16 and 31 Bremer discloses a method for answering a wireless telephone, the method comprising:

receiving an incoming call (see fig. 1 (102), col. 1, lines 55-58); responsive to a determination that automatic call answering has been selected by a user (see col. 4 lines 16 – 21), answering the incoming call by providing the calling party with an indication that the user will take the call momentarily and placing the wireless telephone in mute mode until the user has taken the incoming call (see col. 4 lines 43 – 51), except for speech phrase generator. However, Butler discloses a method and apparatus for managing call comprising a speech phrase generator (see abstract, col.2, lines 31-44). Thus, it would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skills in the art at time of invention to use the Butler's speech phrase generator to Bremer's invention in order to improve the use of telecommunication devices.

Regarding to claims 3, 18, and 33, the combination of Bremer and Butler disclose providing audio of the calling party to the user (see Bremer col. 3, lines 6 –10); and responsive to selection of a speech phrase by the user, sending a speech phrase to the calling party (see Butler, col.2, lines 31-44).

Regarding to claims 4, 9 and 34, the combination of Bremer and Butler disclose the speech phrase is prerecorded (see Bremer col. 1, lines 60-62).

Regarding to claims 5, 20 and 35, Butler further discloses the speech phrase is generated using a voice generation unit (col.2, lines 31-44).

Regarding claims 6, 21 and 36, Bremer discloses notifying the user of the incoming call (see col.1, lines 55 – 58); and presenting the user with options as to how to dispose of the call (see col. 1, line 64 to col. 2, line 5).

Regarding claims 7, 22 and 37, Bremer discloses the options include allowing automatic call answering to answer the incoming call (see col. 1, lines 55 – 62) and at least one of allowing the user to answer the incoming call (see col. 1, lines 64 – 67), allowing voice mail to take the incoming call (see col. 4, lines 1 – 4) and allowing the incoming call to go unanswered (see col.3, lines 65 – 67).

Regarding claims 8, 23 and 38, Bremer discloses the step of providing the calling party with an indication that the user will take the call momentarily includes sending a voice message to the calling party (see col. 3, lines 61 to col. 4, lines 4).

Regarding claims 9, 24 and 39, Bremer discloses the voice message is a prerecorded message (see col. 1, lines 60 - 62).

Regarding claims 10, 25 and 40, Bremer discloses the voice message is generated by a voice generation unit (see col. 2, lines 29 – 36).

Regarding claims 11, 26 and 41, the step of providing the calling party with an indication that the user will take the call momentarily includes sending a text message to the calling party (see col. 3, lines 61 – 64).

Regarding claims 12, 27 and 42, Bremer discloses the step of providing the calling party with an indication that the user will take the call momentarily comprises a selectable message selected from a plurality of possible messages (see col. 4, lines 14 – 21).

Regarding claims 13, 28 and 43, Bremer discloses the selectable message is selected based on the identity of the calling party (see col. 4, lines 14 – 21).

Regarding claims 14, 29 and 44, Bremer discloses the selectable message is selected based on the time (see col. 4, lines 4 – 5).

Regarding claims 15, 30 and 45, Bremer discloses the selectable message is selected by the user (see col.4, lines 14 – 21); providing the calling party with an indication that the user will take the call momentarily and placing the wireless telephone in mute mode until the user has taken the incoming call (see col. 4 lines 43 – 51).

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
